state, both claim victory over the other in the courts to which an appeal will be made for recognition; but in the fight at the convention the anti-Dubois men claim the victory while the Dubois crowd acknowledge that they lost considerable strength and a great many points.

The supreme court of Idaho will have to decide which of these two contending factions of the Democratic party will be recognized and be permitted to carry the party emblem and sail under its banners.

NUGENT IS OPTIMISTIC.

John F. Nugent, whom the anti-Dubois faction have made chairman of Dubois faction have made chairman of the state central committee, is quite optimistic as respecting the outcome of his side. He considers that his faction gained many points at the convention which will tell in their favor when the question comes before the supreme court. In speaking of the matter, Mr. Nugent said: "We are determined to push the question to the last ditch. Our great effort will be, of course, to get a supreme court decision recognizing our party as the one having a legal right to the party name. Our records of the business of the convention will fully support our contentions in court and we will name a competent comand we will name a competent com-mittee to attend faithfully to this mat-ter. The subscription taken at Wal-lace, amounting to about $1,000, will be sufficient to prosecute our suit, as the attorneys on the committee will charge nothing for their services above the actual expenses incurred. We are not worrying about the outcome of the case. We have everything in our favor. We can show beyond a doubt that, with the majority vote counted, we had control of the convention by a good margin."

JUDGE PERKEY'S VIEW.

K. I. Perkey declares his faction kept a most careful récord of the Dubols proceedings in the convention. "We had two stenographers," he

"We had two stenographers," he says, "whose notes as transcribed tally perfectly, and our record will show that we had a majority vote in the convention before the split, that the gag rule was adopted to shut out our protests and objections and to keep from the convention the minority report of the credentials committee; that in voting on the majority report of that committee, contested delegates favorable to Dubois were allowed to vote and their votes were recorded, while Ada county (anit-Dubois) was allowed no voice in the convention, allowed no voice in the convention, notwithstanding they had been declared eligible to seats by the credentials committee. Our record will show that we were entirely peacable and orderly throughout the proceedings and that we took no steps toward holding a eperate convention until forced to do so because gag rule was adopted for he purpose of defeating the wishes of the majority in the convention." ANOTHER CONVICT ESCAPES.

Within a week's time the third convict has escaped from the state penitentiary. On Monday David Norwood, a 35-year man, who has served 12 years, and who had been greatly trusted about the institution, made good his escape. Up to this time no trace of him can be found. The warden sus-

MILITIAMAN MISSING.

John Coates, a private in company K, Idaho Falls, now quartered at the Boise barracks, has been the cause of great concern about the Barracks this week. He disapeared last Sunday afternoon and, despite the effort to locate him, he has not been found as yet. His actions were considered mysterious during the early part of the day and a guard was detailed to keep watch upon him, but notwithstanding this, he slipped away. The pententiary bloodhounds have been on his trail and traced it toward Boise river. It is the opinion of the officers that the young man has drowned himself in the river and that his body now lays at the bottom of that stream.

The physician at the fort says that Cotes lost his mind due to worry over his love affairs. He had a sweetheart in Idaho Falls, his home, who recently filted him. John Coates, a private in company

Nearly all dry farmed grain has been harvested, the heat of the season having hastened ripening, though drying it out to quite an extent. HEAVY RAIN STRIKES MONTPELIER NEIGHBORHOOD

Special Correspondence.

M ONTPELIER, Ida., Aug. 13.—The heaviest rainstorm of the season visited this section this morning, the rain falling in torrents. The storm will greatly relieve the water situation and will do much good, especially to the dry farms and the second crops of alfalfa; farms and the second crops of alfalfa; it will also do much damage to the upland hay crops, as the bulk of that crop is mostly cut and unprotected from the storm. It is unauthoritatively-stated that the storm has done heavy damage to the roads and bridges between here and Afton. Wyo.

Considering the dryness of the season, the crops are looking well and unless a heavy frost follows the present storm, the indications for an abundant grain harvest are good.

LEWISTON SHIPS PEACHES TO EASTERN MARKETMEN

Special Correspondence.

[EWISTON, Idaho, Aug. 10.-Charles Seiler, a passenger on the Lewiston-Waha stage, sustained fracture of the right leg this afternoon in a smashup between the stage and an automobile driven by a merchant of the Craig mountain country. The accident happened about 14 miles from Lewiston and the injured man was taken to a ranch house, where medical aid was summoned. The driver of the machine returned to the scene of the accident to convey Seiler to the farmhouse, but failed to give his name. The accident happened at a narrow point in the road and in passing the rear wheels of the machine and the stage caught, overturning the stage. Beginning next week car lot shipments of peaches will be made to eastern markets by the many commission buyers who will be in the field to handle the large peach crop to be gathnoon in a smashup between the stage

White Brothers & Crum will handle the bulk of the crop, as they are in a position to handle peaches in large quantities because of their superior warehouse and packing facilities, but several buyers will purchase the fruit direct from the growers, who will employ pickers and packers.

Eestimates on the peach crop vary widely, but 40e cars is accepted as the most accurate, although some growers declare this too conservative. The three canneries will handle a large share of the peaches, as they are in a position to can all of the surplus fruit. It is expected that direct car lot shipments of peaches will be made to Chicago and possibly to New York, but most of the fruit will be marketed in northwestern cities.

Several contests will grow out of the opening of a township of government land on Craig mountain, as the original squatters who have been occupying the land since the date it was thrown open for settlement have found jumpers on their rights when they tried to file. The land was thrown open for entry two months ago and all of it worth anything was quickly taken by men who have been watching for the date of settlement.

men who have been watching for the date of settlement.

These men are undoubtedly bona fide homesteaders, as they moved out on the claims, built cabins and spent considerble money in traff construction. FARMERS SAVE MONEY IN BUYING GRAIN SACKS

N EZ PERCE, Idaho, Aug. 10.—At the meeting of the Farmers' Educa tional union Saturday night considerable time was given to a discussion of the grain sack question, as the farmers are now receiving shipments. Through the union the farmers placed orders for 400,000 sacks, to be delivered at Vollmer, while an additional 50,000 will be delivered at Greer. JOHN ARBUTHNOT FISHER.

Admiral Sir John Arbuthnot Fisher, a splendid veteran of England's greater navy, is making a strong fight against the attempts of the Liberal cabinet to reduce the naval appropriations which had been planned by the lords of admiralty on the same huge scale as has been the case in recent years. Sir John has notified the government that he will fight any reduction of naval strength or naval building plans. He has announced that he will resign his post and appeal to parliament itself in an attempt to prevent any falling off in England's naval strength. He entered the navay way back in 1854, and has held every post of honor possible for a British seaman. He has been through half a dozen wars and wears many medals for conspicuous bravery.

pects are bright for the road being finished the erection of warehouses will begin at once.

Nez Perce prairie farmers will carry the banner for crop records this year, according to J. H. Hargraves of the Northwestern Mutual Insurance company of Seattle. Mr. Hargraves is in Nez Perce in the interest of his company, which does a large business in grain risks. Most of the farmers who store their grain have it insured and it is covered from the time it is threshed until it is marketed. Mr. Hargraves has been in most of the grain-growing communities of the northwest and he says that Nez Perce and Camas prairies will show yield fully 25 per cent heavier than the famous Palouse.

Because of the character of his business Mr. Hargraves is in a position to speak with knowledge of the grain production, and he has no hesitancy in handing the laurels to Nez Perce, for the fall grain will undoubtedly reach the record for production, if a new record is not established. The spring grain will not reach the record, as the hot weather of the lst two weeks has cut the yield somewhat, although at that the yield will exceed that of the Palouse by about the same percentage as the fall grain, according to Mr. Hargraves.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.

Hearing a cry of alarm coming from near the pond of the old power plant, he immediately rethe old power plant, he immediately responded by a quick run, and when he got there he saw sinking for the third time the son of Jennie Irvin, 627 North Johnson avenue. The boy was safely landed, but to his surprise, he was told by the other children on the bank that there was also a little girl in the pond whom the Irvin boy had tried to rescue at the risk of his own life. Barnes again plunged in, and with some difficulty reached the body in deep water, and by locking his feet about the little girl he swam to shallow water, and soon had her on the bank. Ready hands then set to work to revive the little girl, and success attended their efforts, for soon respiration was restored and she was carried home to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hohenstein.
